

Animal Working Group Newsletter

August 2023

Stress/Exercise in Horses

- Horses are herd animals with a strong need to socialize
- If possible, they should always be turned out in groups
- Exercise should be in a space large enough for a full gallop

Stress/Exercise in Dogs

- Should be walked multiple times a day
- Have time off the leash to play
- Dogs are social and may benefit from having canine companions
- Normally, considered pack animals, they require a balanced leader

Member Involvement

The Animal Working Group is currently working on getting established to help educate and provide resources for our members. If you are interested in learning or have a passion for animals, please reach out to Linda Hoffman at ceconvention@pennchiro.org or Dr. Gray at drgraydc@gmail.com for more information!

Disclaimer. All content, including text, images, or other formats were created for informational purposes only and do not serve as medical advice nor should be relied upon as such. The content is general information for PCA Members only and is NOT intended to be a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment. The statements and information have not necessarily been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration. Professional medical advice and consultation should never be disregarded nor should seeking it be delayed because of this information. The Pennsylvania Chiropractic Association expressly disclaims to any person or entity for any liability, loss or damage caused or alleged to be caused directly or indirectly as a result of the use, application or interpretation of any information provided herein. Chiropractors should seek a legal opinion from an attorney for interpretation of Pennsylvania laws and regulations including scope of practice.